Calling All Classic Car Lovers!

Worldwide

Classic Car Hire World is the single biggest resource on the web devoted to hiring out classic cars, modern performance sports cars and exotic cars. Their site contains details of over 160 Companies spread across 15 Countries - 16 if you count Scotland as a separate country (Australia; Austria; Belgium; Canada; England & Wales; France; Germany; Holland (Netherlands); Ireland; Italy; New Zealand; Scotland; Spain; South Africa; Switzerland and USA), and over 1,500 cars, with more being added week by week.

Classic Car Hire started at about the same time in the UK and the USA in the mid 1990s and has spread to most countries where people love to drive classic cars. In some parts of Europe, notably Austria, Germany, the Netherlands and Switzerland classic cars are generally referred to as 'Oldtimers' rather than classics. 'Classics' is the term normally given to the cars from the fifties, sixties and seventies. There are also numerous companies renting out modern 'classic' and performance sports cars which in the USA are generally referred to as 'exotic' cars. You can hire anything from an AC Cobra to a Volkswagen, a 1916 Crossley or 1929 Studebaker right through to the latest 2009 model Bentley, Ferrari or Lamborghini.

There are three main routes through their website.

- Firstly if you are looking to rent a sports car in a particular country, or part of a country, or just planning a trip somewhere, then select Countries, choose the Country that interests you and then click on the Company in the right area of the map.

- Secondly, if you are looking to hire a specific make and model of car, click on Marques/Makes and then select the appropriate Marque and then Model from those shown. You will be presented with a list of all available cars for hire, sorted by Country, showing their details, the company offering them for rental and their location.

- Thirdly, if you are looking to hire a car from a specific year or decade, click on Date Search and then enter the Earliest and Latest years in the boxes provided. You will be presented with a list of all available cars for hire from the relevant date, sorted by Country, showing their details, the company offering them for rental and their location.
