Central Rockies

Breathtaking scenery and dramatic mountain ranges make this one of our most popular destinations. Follow the boardwalks through the geysers and mud pots of Yellowstone National Park. See what it takes to be a sculptor at Crazy Horse Monument, then watch the light show at Mt. Rushmore. Colorado's mountains welcome all levels of biking, hiking, fishing and four-wheeling. Give the kids a camera and watch for moose, bison, elk and birds of prey. A daylong raft trip under crystal blue skies is always refreshing! Or just sit back and enjoy a trip back in time on one of the narrow gauge steam trains that helped open up this majestic country.

There are 10 trips available in Central Rockies.

RV Treasure Hunting

Geocaching is a high-tech version of treasure hunting. RVers seek out hidden treasures utilizing GPS coordinates posted on the Internet by those hiding the cache. Using a GPS unit, RV geocachers venture out onto the highway and byways to find the hiding spot of the cache. Once found, a cache may provide the visitor with a wide variety of rewards. If the visitor takes something out of the cache, they are asked to leave something in return. For RVers, the biggest reward is the thrill of the search and the discovery of a place that they have never been. Geocaches are mostly hidden on public recreational lands. They are only hidden on private land if permission has been given by the landowner. Geocaching.com encourages hiders to receive permission to hide a Geocache from the land management agency responsible for the area they wish to hide the Geocache in.

Geocaches are never buried. They are mostly hidden in natural crevices created by rocks, stumps & trees. Many are cleverly camouflaged to look like branches, stumps, squirrel & bird nests or birdhouses. The person that hides a cache will leave a hint on the cache page so that a cache seeker will not damage an area trying to find a hidden Geocache.
