Learn a Language

On our site, you will see trips offered under "Learning Vacations" where you can immerse yourself in a foreign culture while learning the language, but if you are just interested in exploring a variety of languages, here's a terrific site that offers many free features: <http://www.word2word.com/coursead.html>

They provide everything from a free online vocabulary trainer to a list of language schools to online dictionaries and translators. They provide links to introductory phrases and sentences in 97 different dialects.

At some point, there are offers to purchase further materials and lessons, but there is no obligation and tons of free information.
